

English Exams for school pupils

Cambridge ESOL exams are increasingly being used in primary and secondary education around the world. To make them more appealing and accessible, Cambridge ESOL offers a range of exams which are specially tailored to suit the interests of pupils and young learners: KET (Key English Test) for Schools and PET (Preliminary English Test) for Schools. These new exams are set at the levels A2 (KET) and B1 (PET) and they are based on familiar topics and situations and give therefore pupils confidence to use their English. The workshop will introduce you to these new exams and show you how you can enhance your English lessons.

Date: Saturday, 20 March 2010, 14.00 h – 13.30 h
Venue: Kulturzentrum Gasteig München
Presenter: Myriam Fischer

In order to register for the seminar or if you have any queries, please contact bvv@vhs-bayern.de.

We are looking forward to your participation!